Live dealer is easily the most popular way to play table games at online casinos. For those who are unsure of what it is, live dealer features real-time games with actual cards, tables and human croupiers, all streamed via a live HD video feed to your computer, mobile, tablet or even smart TVs.

A staple at the top live casino sites is blackjack, so you will often find many different variants and table limits. Table limits stretch as high as $50,000. Other popular live games include roulette, casino hold'em and live baccarat, with the best live dealer casinos featuring multiple game types.

The beauty of playing live dealer card games online is you will find tables with limits to suit all types of players and preferences. You can gamble for as little as $1 per hand on a live dealer table, while at a land-based casino we may be forced to spend at least $20 on each hand to even sit at the table. It's easy to see which is the better, more flexible option for your bankroll. All of the best online casino sites feature live dealer games.

This is not to say there aren't live dealer casino sites to suit high limit players: Many of the most respected online casinos have VIP programs which will cater exclusively to high rollers. While it is possible to have your own table set up by special request with higher limits, a standard table limit could be anything from $2500 to $10,000.

While we will go into more detail about software providers below, some of the better ones for live dealer play include Microgaming and Ezugi, with many of the above casino sites featuring these. You can look at the individual reviews of each casino to see what live dealer software they use.

The best online casino sites will not only have live dealer games available on computer, but recent advancements mean you can also play on your smart devices. Mobile live dealer essentially lets you play live dealer casino games over a data feed, as long as your internet connection is strong enough. The gameplay in mobile live dealer mirrors the desktop play, with table limits also remaining the same, with the only notable difference the size of your display and the dynamic switching between the table and dealer.

A insanely popular live game in China and much of Asia is baccarat, with this high rollers game adapting beautifully to the web. We have heard reports of live baccarat sites accepting bets of upwards of $100,000 per hand, with the low house edge a driving factor in attracting players. Huge action also happens at live blackjack and live roulette sites.

The top bonus offers at online casinos can net you real money for nothing, with these promotions designed to entice you to wager with specific gambling sites. Bonuses at the top casino sites generally come as a matched deposit bonus, no deposit bonus or even as free spins.

Basically the top online casino sites will dream up a gift, to get you to play there, with only the regulations in your country to abide by. For instance,

UK casino sites are instructed by the UK Gambling Commission to always display wagering requirements on any bonus offers.

Deposit bonuses at online casino sites are generally when you deposit to your account and have the sum matched up to a certain value. For instance, an online casino might have a 100% matched deposit bonus up to the value of €1000. The player can then deposit up to €1000 and have it matched, giving them up to €2000 (€1000 real money + €1000 bonus) total to bet with.

Choose from more than a dozen classic video poker titles, including Jacks or Better, Deuces Wild and All Aces. The Microgaming Power Poker series allows you to play four hands simultaneously, with these types of initiatives exclusive to online casino sites.

If there is one thing that you can be sure about at a casino it is that they will attempt to take your money, even if they are not equipped for a high roller of your value. The best high stakes casino sites depend on a number of variables.

Best casinos slovakia online

If you are a high stakes casino player it's important that you play somewhere that has the liquidity to pay you if you win big. This means you want to play at online casinos that are popular and have high player volumes.

You also want to make sure you play at online casinos that don't have any hidden terms and conditions, that could stop you from cashing out a large sum of money all at once. For instance many online casinos, depending on your location, can cap the amount you can withdraw weekly or monthly. In one prominent gambling jurisdiction it's not uncommon for online casino withdrawals to be capped at $2000 weekly.

So, in summary, if you are looking to play at a high stakes online casino it's important that you understand the laws that you are operating under, and do your homework on the high roller gambling site you want to play at.

The top online casino sites use a range of different software, with many of them combining more than one on the same platform. Casino software companies, just like online casino sites, must seek licensing to operate in certain countries with regulated gambling.

Online casinos best slovakia

For instance, If an online casino software company wants their games to be played at real money gambling sites in the United Kingdom, they must get a license from the Gambling Commission. In other countries, like New Zealand, online casino sites have not really been addressed in their laws and citizens are not banned from playing at them, hence the software companies can have their games played legally.

There are several giants in among iGaming developers, with these including Microgaming, Playtech, Net Entertainment and Boyd Gaming. While these games are frequently found at the best casino sites, there are upwards of 150 different iGaming developers that we have no hesitation in recommending. Some of the top casino software brands to look out for include:

OnlineCasinoSite.com takes player safety seriously. If we recommend an online casino site for a player to visit we insist on it being tested thoroughly by our staff. But most importantly we insist on it being accredited by independent agencies like eCOGRA and licensed in a respected jurisdiction. You should look for the following indicators to tell if online casino sites are safe to play at:

The e-Commerce Online Gaming Regulation and Assurance (eCOGRA) is one of online gambling's industry's leading independent authority. Our recommended sites proudly wear the eCOGRA Seal of Approval, which is only awarded to Web casinos which pass rigorous third-party testing to ensure all their games are fair, that the software cannot be hacked or manipulated by players or operators, and that the site offers a secure, honest environment for online gaming.

Security is paramount when it comes to gambling online. That's why we only suggest real money casinos which use at least a 128-bit SSL (Secure Socket Layer) encryption system. This is the same kind of digital security platform used by banking institutions for online services, and ensures all your money and personal information is kept safe from hackers and fraudsters.

Online casino deposit methods vary greatly from country to country but no matter where you are it is almost certain you will be able to fund your account. Depending on the laws governing your country or state you will have different options available. Those in regulated markets will have more high profile options like Paypal and Neteller, while those in countries where gambling is frowned upon will have less. The following articles will feature online casinos with the nominated banking method available in your jurisdiction.

The most obvious and popular payment option at online casinos is Visa, with almost every online casino having this payment method available. Visa cards provide players with instant deposits although often a casino will impose a limit on how much you can deposit with a credit card. Some banks will also stop you from depositing huge sums on your credit card.

Other popular credit and debit options include MasterCard, which is the second biggest card supplier in the world. Like Visa it will be available at every online casino catering to Aussies.

Other methods such as web wallets (Skrill, Neteller) have also become popular with instant deposits and withdrawals between you and the casino. They also give you an extra layer of security against fraud because the web wallet does the dealings with the casino for you.

Virtual money solutions (Maestro, EntroPay), prepaid cash cards (Ukash, PaySafeCard) and direct bank transfers (POLi, Citadel Direct) are also growing in popularity. POLi in particular is a great option for Australian and New Zealand punters with it accessing your online banking and instantly funding your account.

The USA is another country which is yet to fully embrace online gambling, although there are many gambling sites which will accept players from here. Much like the new situation in Australia, where many of the best online casinos withdrew in September 2017 because of updates to local laws, namely the Interactive Gambling Act.

This law update means there are strict penalties for gambling sites caught marketing to Australians, although this will be problematic to enforce, just like USA officials struggle to enforce their ban on online gambling.
