Dead or Alive 2 is our number one pick for the best real-money online slot machine of 2022. Other honorable mentions include 300 Shields Extreme for an adrenaline-filled experience and Immortal Romance for a story drive slot.

For me, this is what takes Dead or Alive 2 from good to great. You choose the volatility. You choose the bonus game. Do you want to go for that max win of x111,111 your stake with the high noon saloon, or do you want to win often with the train heist? It's your call. Personally, I'm all about the dream payday, and so I go for high noon saloon, where wilds are sticky for the entirety of the free spins, and they multiply with each additional one that you get in the same reel.

The first step is to ask what you want in a slot machine. If it's money, go for progressive jackpots and high RTP slots. But if you're after a good time, look through the casino's library until you find something that interests you before giving it a try. If all else fails, you can check out one of our guides for the best online slots for all the top online casinos.

For the high rollers looking for an adrenaline rush, Medusa Megaways is unmatched. While the RTP of 96.28% is good on its own — NextGen Gaming has decided that they wanted to push their feature buy option as the prime way to play this slot, and they've done so by raising the RTP to 97.63% for those who use it exclusively. This takes Medusa Megaways (developed in 2019) from being a standard high volatility megaways slot, to one almost exclusively favored by those willing to cough up the x100 fee to purchase the bonus buy rounds.

Of course, for those on a budget, the idea of hitting their progressive jackpot with a minimum bet of $0.20 is the thing of dreams. The jackpot system works similarly to the dragon link jackpot mechanic, where it's triggered by collecting three of their special coin symbols — from there, you are taken to a separate 5×3 machine and are given three free spins with the only goal being to collect additional coins. As you collect these coins, your free spin counter resets. These carry values of up to x200 your bet size, though to trigger the jackpots, you need to fill up the rows with coins.

Filling one row will get you the minor jackpot of x20 your stake, two rows will get you the major of x100 — and all three will get you the progressive mega jackpot.

With Medusa Megaways being a game for high rollers, we've picked 888 Casino. Exclusive to New Jersey residents who sign up with our link — you'll be given a $20 no-deposit on top of a 120% matched first deposit of up to $500.

Some people love it. Some hate it. 88 Fortunes Megaways by SG Digital was released in 2019, and since day one, it's been divisive. On the one hand, the 96.27% RTP, plethora of bonus features, megaways, and cascading mechanics can make it one of the most exciting slot machines available. On the other hand, is very high volatility accompanied by one of the lowest hit rates of all slots.

With such high volatility and a low hit rate, Raging Rhino comes with many risks. For that reason, we believe that the perfect casino to play it on is FanDuel. Free spins can be won the traditional way of collecting three scatter symbols. Although a second and easier way exists. By getting a wild anywhere on the 5×3 slot machine, players will be awarded a free spin as the wild sticks to its reel, but moves down one row. This means that even in the base game it's possible to get free spins.

The word extreme is often overused. But the Spartan-themed 300 Shields Extreme by NextGen Gaming is definitely deserving of that title. The base game itself can seem a little standard with a basic 5×3 layout accompanying a 95.29% RTP and high volatility. Though what makes it extreme is its bonus rounds and how you reach them.

Triggered by having the stacked wild fill up an entire reel, the bonus round starts with an x2 multiplier and ten free spins — though two additional spins are easily won by collecting the grappling hook wild symbols.

During the bonus buy feature, it's a game of streaks. For each time you match symbols, your multiplier will go up by one — add into that Medusa Megaways uses cascading mechanics, and this means that towards bonus rounds is when you'll be winning the most, with the prospect of hitting the max win of x50,000 becoming a real possibility. Developed in 2015, the African savanna-themed Raging Rhino by WMS is a six-reel four-row slot with very high volatility. While many slots live and die by their bonus features, Raging Rhino is one that a lot of people love because of its base game. The hit rate is low. Though using the same megaways-esque mechanic as Immortal Romance, it means that when it does, its 95.91% RTP kicks in, usually resulting in a big payout.

For those concerned with profit, there is no more important metric than RTP. RTP determines how much of the player's money is returned on average and how much they can expect to make per spin.

Yes. While there are free online slots that you can play. At all online casino gambling sites, you'll be able to play online slots that pay you real withdrawable cash when you win.

The second requirement is that all online casinos must be partnered with a land-based casino. This ensures that if the online casino folds for any reason, someone is still financially responsible for ensuring that all players are paid.

For some online gambling sites though, they require a code to be entered during registration. The two best examples of this are BetMGM and Caesars Casino. With BetMGM, to get access to their $1,000 first deposit match and $25 no-deposit, you must use code GAMBLEUSA when registering. For Caesars Casino, it's a little different, and you'll need to type in a different code depending on where you live. If you're in Pennsylvania, Michigan, or West Virginia, it's GUSA. But if you live in New Jersey, it's GUSAS. Whichever you'll need, the bonus is the same — a first deposit matched dollar for dollar up to $2,000.

However, if you reside outside these states you're not out of luck. Because thanks to a legal loophole, sweepstakes casinos can offer real money online slots under the guise of sweepstakes. You can check out our review for one of the best: Pulsz Casino.

Steam Tower by NetEnt takes the classic tale of a knight saving a princess from atop a tower guarded by a dragon and repaints it with a steampunk aesthetic. The game is played on the classic 5×3 layout with a medium volatility and a 97.04% RTP. Despite this, the base isn't all that profitable. Instead, the primary way of making decent money is through the bonus round.

Chances are, if you ask this question, you're really wondering, "Is the actual RTP lower than the listed RTP?" The answer to this is a resounding "No". The independent testing that is required at the state level guarantees that the listed RTP is correct, and even if they were somehow able to get past the independent testing — it simply wouldn't be worth risking their entire reputation for a one-time extra slither of profit.

The factors that make a slot machine great are not universal. For some — the allure of online video slots comes from the hope of getting a six-figure payout, while for others, they're on a budget, and they just want to enjoy some relaxing online gambling with good gameplay. For that reason, we've formed our favorites for each of the most common criteria that users look for when playing real money online slots.

The base game is excellent. A good hit rate with decent-sized wins, all while your choice of Guns N' Roses song is blasting through — but in addition to this, Guns N' Roses has enough bonus features to keep you entertained for hours. Solo multipliers are triggered at random and can multiply a winning by x10. While the bonus rounds which can be achieved by getting the bonus symbol on reels 1, 3, and 5, can award three different types of bonuses. My favorite is the encore free spins which spawn a reel full of wilds for ten free spins.

Another slot centered around Ancient Greece. Developed in 2017 by NetEnt, Divine Fortune was an instant hit, being one of the very few online slot machines that offer the chance to walk away with the progressive jackpot for pennies. Of course to only talk about Divine Fortune's jackpot feature to sell it short. With a 96.6% RTP, medium volatility, and multiple bonuses, Divine Fortune is a slot that has just as good a base game as it does a bonus game.
