The fact that Genesis is named after its parent company should certainly add a feeling of security to potential players. It is its parent's pride and joy, something of a favourite child, if you will.

Now that the main ranking criteria have been covered, I'd also like to present some bonus points. Aside from its monstrous games selection, it also offers a great VIP program that anyone can join. The VIP program gives you a host of special features, including extra competitions, exclusive bonuses and even a birthday treat. All of these additional features come on top of the casino's already stacked promotional offering of weekly specials.

Are you wondering why Genesis Casino is one of the top casino mobile online? The answer is simple. You'll get the same quality, efficiency and smoothness as you travel through the galaxies far away from Earth's orbit. You can play here on your preferred portable device, be it your smartphone or tablet.

The live chat is usually our go-to for simple questions, and the customer service representative was quick to respond, taking only a few moments to have a query resolved. Plus, there is actually a person on the other end of the chat, not just from responses. The chat is powered by LiveChat, which is a leader in the industry and used by over 24,000 companies worldwide, so you know it's well-tested.

Slots and scratch cards, on the other hand, don't offer nearly as pleasant a result in their RTPs. While lower than blackjack with an average of 95%, the slots do meet the higher end of the industry average, which is usually between 92-96%. There are a couple of slots that rate just over 97%, so it's worthwhile understanding the differences between the games to make the most of your money.

Across the enormous variety of games, it is important to also consider whether it can sate an appetite for high stakes wagers, while also bringing in the more timid players who are better suited to low limits. It was somewhat surprising to find that while there is great variation in the games themselves, the table limits are rather narrow.

We can totally understand that for some, navigating through a mobile casino in search for the cashier, promotions, bonuses, favourite games and more might be a bit more difficult than for others. Worry not, because we ensure you that it isn't any harder than using a desktop casino; the menus might only be more difficult to spot but we are certain that once you get a bit more comfortable using a mobile site for casino, it will be effortless and you can pay by mobile Casino.
