Casino Frenzy is a bit typical when compared to other casino games. It features a combination of slots and video poker. Like many, it boasts new slots and video poker games frequently. It also tries to sell you by writing that you'll get huge wins in all capital letters. There are some things to like about it, though. It also includes hourly bonuses. That's more frequent than most casino games. That's more often than most. It can be buggy at times. However, those issues tend to not last too long. It's pretty decent.

You can also play anonymously if you want to. Most players are happy enough with this one. As you may have guessed, it also includes online multiplayer modes and tournaments. It's not perfect and its heavy integration with Facebook isn't ideal. However, this is a fairly popular poker game for a reason.

There are a lot of Blackjack games on Google Play, but this one seems like one of the least objectionable of the bunch. The game is a simple game of Blackjack without a ton of flash and flair. The odds seem pretty good even if they’re not overly random. The game comes with plenty of free chip opportunities, various bonuses, and simple mechanics and controls. The ads are a little much, but they’re honestly not too bad when you take into consideration how bad casino games can be. This one is pretty good overall.

25-in-1 Casino and Sportsbook is a giant game. It features a ton of different casino games, including Blackjack, Jacks, various types of video poker, Roulette, Keno, Baccarat, and more.
