The next stop is immigration- even though this is a cruise to nowhere, you're technically leaving Singapore waters, and you'll need to scan your passport (they have automated biometric clearance, just like the airport). This was the first time I used my passport in just under a year (the last trip didn't end so well...)

If you have any alcohol in your bag, you'll need to remove it and carry it with you onboard the ship. As a reminder, each stateroom is entitled to 2 x 750 ml bottles of wine or champagne. Spirits or beer are not allowed. Bottles can be enjoyed in the stateroom, or you can pay a US$15 corkage fee to enjoy them in the restaurant.

If you already have an online account with Princess, you may enter your Princess username & password to sign in with the app. Then, if the Winter Heart 2022 cruise doesn't show up automatically, you can tap the person icon in the top left corner, tap the + icon on the left side under "My Journeys" and link the cruise by entering your booking number. Once it is linked you will see "Your dream vacation starts in..." countdown at the top of the app's home screen. If you do not already have a Princess account you can Sign Up using the app. Thirdly, you can choose the Quick Access option and access the cruise with your booking number. All three options will be presented when you first open the app on your phone.

My sail date is end Nov'21, I can check in since beginning Sept. I'd say 90 days still applies.

Even though Quantum of the Seas only officially departs at 2000 hours, you'll want to board as early as possible. It's not just to maximize your first day (staterooms, dining and activities are available from the moment you board), it's so you can snatch up all those precious reservations.

There's no point arriving at the cruise centre ahead of your boarding time, because you can't board until your official time slot. Perhaps they weren't so strict in the past, but due to COVID-19 safe distancing measures, this is religiously enforced now. It doesn't matter if you're in a suite or regular room (Star Class suites may have different rules, but Sea and Sky definitely don't). The authorities want to spread out boarding to avoid everyone bum rushing the boat at the same time.

There was one final boarding pass check at the end of the gangway, but after that, we were finally onboard the Quantum of the Seas. The crew and officers were lined up to welcome guests, and it felt positively festive.

My advice would be that you keep your bags with you. It's just logistically simpler, and it's not like you'll have to lug them up and down the stairs anyway. If you really must check your bag, be sure to bring a separate bag that has everything you need for the first few hours. Some suggestions:

If you're opting for a shorter cruise (2N or less), there's no DriveCruise Package available. You'll pay the hourly rate, as shown below:

I'm of the opinion the simplest option is to leave the car at home and just Grab over.

So let's talk check-in. It's a two-part process; part one takes place outside the cruise terminal, part two happens inside.

Before even entering the cruise terminal, you'll be asked if you have any luggage to check. This is offered purely as a convenience; unlike airplanes, there's no restriction on the size of your hand carry luggage.

Hi Aaron, thanks for the post. Is the guy on the photo Mark Lee? He looks a bit more like Wang Lei though...

Celebrity Horizon - 11 day Eastern Caribbean 11/29/04 - 12/10/04 My goal with this review is to touch on the highlights and at the same time hopefully answer many of the questions I had before we took this cruise. Nonetheless, this review is very long. For those of you that want a quick summary. First, you insert your Boarding Pass card and sign-in using your pin. You'll also need your state ID/driver license. When prompted, insert into the card slot and the kiosk will scan it for your account records. If you have a passport, your application will need to be processed at the book desk. Next, you'll be asked to enter some personal.

Both Genting and Royal Caribbean cruises to nowhere depart from the Marina Bay Cruise Centre, located at 61 Marina Coastal Drive. While there's a dedicated MRT station in Marina South Pier, it's still a 700m or so walk from the station to the terminal (at least it's a sheltered walkway).

After that comes a security screening (similar to the one you'd undergo at the airport), and then we were funnelled over to a second check-in desk.

Station Casinos Inc. is a gaming company based in the Las Vegas suburb of Summerlin, Nevada, founded by Frank Fertitta Jr. boarding pass A pass for boarding an aircraft, given to a passenger when the ticket is issued or upon check-in at the airport.

After checking our bags, we joined the queue to enter the terminal. It was roughly 1.35 p.m at this point, so we stood in line for 25 minutes.

However, this battle is won and lost during online check-in, long before you even arrive at the cruise terminal. Online check-in opens 90 days before your cruise, and please, please do it as soon as possible. The first boarding slot is at 2 p.m, and it disappears before you know it.

I just booked Royal Caribbean Cruise To Nowhere. Is it the earliest possible check in date still 90 days in advance? My travel agent told me it's 45 days in advance

Boarding Pass members must have their confidential PIN to be able to redeem points for Slot/Bingo Play and Cash Back. Once points are redeemed for Slot/Bingo Play or Cash Back and it is on the Boarding Pass card, it cannot be reversed. Boarding Pass Status Credit Structure. Boarding Pass points are earned when playing most games at a Station Casinos property. Slot players earn one point for every $1 in coin-in. It is $2 coin-in per Boarding Pass point at video poker and electronic table games, unless otherwise noted on the machine. Sports bettors receive one point for every dollar wagered.

There is a vending machine in the carpark (Level 2) which will sell you the DriveCruise ticket, so there's no need to purchase ahead of time (in fact, you can't). This machine accepts Mastercard and Visa, and the Visa Supplier Locator tells me the MCC for Marina Bay Cruise Centre is 5999 (General Merchandise)- though I'm not sure if this applies to the carpark too.

One interesting fact is that for Dream Cruise, if you board early you may be able to make to the first meal – lunch onboard.

Should the car park be full, you can park instead at Marina South Pier (700m away) or Gardens By The Bay (2.8km away).

One of Quantum's many photographers invited us to take a photo with a backdrop of the ship, but feel free to skip this unless you want to buy their overpriced photos (5 for S$79, 10 for S$133, 50 for S$163). I really think they should have given all guests one complimentary print though; it'd make for a nice souvenir. Unfortunately, they won't use your phone to take photos for you (company policy).

The tracelet is fully waterproof (and hypoallergenic), so you can swim with it. This stays with you till you disembark, and a colored sticker helps you identify whose is whose.

Here's where we received our tracelets, a contact tracing tool that must be worn at all times while onboard (except in the stateroom, obviously). In many ways, it duplicates the functionality of the TraceTogether app (which you must install and download for the cruise, or else use the TraceTogether token), but I understand the rationale: it's highly visible, the battery won't die, and unlike TraceTogether, you can't switch off the bluetooth.
