Casino dealer live software

The next generation in sports betting software platforms solutions for large and small sportsbooks

Bring your online gambling operation to the next level with our Live Dealer Casino Platform. Bookie Pay Per Head operators have always had the feature that allows them to offer online casino games to their players, but a Live Dealer Casino software will give them an even better gambling experience.

What is a live dealer casino and how is it different from an online casino? An online casino is a software-based casino, so you have a software that runs the play for your players. You will not have any interaction with other people, and dealers are not live dealers. It is all run automatically, and crafted with an algorithm that keeps the experience as authentic as they can be.

A Live Casino Platform Provider, meanwhile, offers you the same convenience of online casino gaming, but with a more personal and interactive experience. Your players will be able to see their dealers, in real time, as if they were in the same table in a physical casino. All this can be done from anywhere, through any platform and device.

You will be able to offer the following casino games with a live dealer on hand

And, as one of the best live casino platform providers, your players will be able to use this and enjoy great video quality, chat options, live streaming of games, as well as have multiple seat options in certain live dealer games. All this, you can offer to your players for free – and at no additional cost to you, our bookies, as well.

Typical online games powered by Random Number Generators (RNGs) and live dealer games both come with their own advantages and disadvantages. Your style of play will likely dictate which ends up being your favorite, but if you're unsure where to start, take a look at our comparison below:

Enjoy all of the sights and sounds of a brick and mortar casino without leaving your living room

Casino software live dealer

Play alongside other players from all over the world, enjoying some camaraderie with them and the dealer

Offers a nice bridge for offline gamblers who are put off by the usual mechanics of web casino games

Live casino software dealer

Games must be played at the pace dictated by the dealer, which might be faster or slower than a player would otherwise prefer

The range of games available is often much smaller than that of standard online casino games

Software dealer live casino

Massive range of games available, often in the hundreds, vs. just a few live dealer games on offer in typical casinos

The difference between minimum and maximum possible bets tends to be much higher when playing standard games

Dealer software live casino

More diverse bonuses and promotions available to players enjoying standard online casino games

Possible to burn through your bankroll in a short space of time if you get caught up in the action and bet too quickly

The action can feel a bit sterile or artificial when compared with the interactivity of a ‘real’ casino

Live casinos are a type of online casino that offer a real ‘live’ dealer to host the games. Many people find the action at a live casino replicates the experience in a land-based casino best. This makes live casinos popular with those who enjoy offline gambling but aren’t able to make the trip to their local casino. Some just prefer to play in the comfort of their own home.

Live casinos function in a similar way to regular online casinos, but the games have a live element. On the player’s end, the interface of a live casino looks very similar, with bets placed by pressing buttons in the usual way. The big difference is that in a live dealer game, a real ‘live’ dealer (using a real roulette wheel, cards etc.) determines the outcome of each round rather than a Random Number Generator. The dealer, who is broadcast video a video stream, can interact with players to create a more social atmosphere.

Getting started with live dealer games is really easy, even if you’ve never played at an online casino before, and you can be up and running in a matter of minutes:

If you’re looking to play on the go, mobile live dealer games offer an amazing gambling experience. In the case of instant play live dealer games, there’s no need to download any extra software to your smartphone or tablet because you can access them using a mobile version of the casino’s main site. With that being the case, it’s really easy to get started and the only difference between using a mobile device and a computer is that graphics etc. will have been scaled back to reduce the strain on your connection.

You’ll also find that some live casinos offer dedicated apps for Android, iPhone and iPad in their respective app stores. There’s a certain degree of convenience in being able to access your favorite casinos and games right from your home screen but, this aside, games look and perform very similarly on apps and mobile instant play websites. It’s just a matter of which suits you best!

A lot of time, dedication, and accuracy goes into our 25-step casino reviews. Live dealer games and the sites that host them must adhere to our strict player needs. Anything we deem substandard sees us pass over recommending a casino. It is this reason why gamblers from around the world trust us. When compiling our lists of recommended casinos and ones to avoid, we put each to the test, measuring their performance against a benchmark of criteria that we believe ensures our users the best online gambling experience.

Not all live casinos are created equal, so you should think hard before you pick the venue where you're going to play. Where best suits you will depend on a range of factors, such as:

It may be that you're intending to play just one particular live dealer game or it may be that you want to try as many as possible. Clearly, the number of games a site offers (and the reputation of each one) will have a big impact on how suitable the live online casino experience is for you.

There is lots to think about here: how the UX looks, how appealing the background behind the tables are and even how friendly the dealers are!

How the software looks, and plays, will inevitably affect whether you want to play there. Above all, you'll want to make sure that a site is completely safe to use, so look for trusted software providers.

Most sites offer live dealer games with bets ranging from $5-100. Some providers allow smaller bets, and some allow much larger wagers, but those are few and far between. Even so, it would be a big shame to fall in love with a live gambling site only to find out that you can't afford to wager there (or want to bet much more).

Think about how you're going to play when you settle on a live dealer casino – will you be on desktop or maybe on a smartphone or tablet? Certain sites have a better reputation among different platform users, so make sure you always check.

You might be disappointed to learn that typical live dealer casinos offer just a handful of base games. What might soften that blow, however, is the knowledge that most have many different variants of those core games available. From online blackjack to roulette, the most common game variants are shown below:

Our reviewers have searched high and low to find sites offering the latest and greatest live dealer casino games. No matter what your game and platform of choice, you're sure to find something to suit you, so check out our top online casinos with live games and see for yourself!

Live dealer games are versions of online casino games that allow the player to connect to a real human dealer via a live video feed. They are available at the most top casino websites and they can be accessed from a computer, mobile, or tablet. Real cards, chips, and roulette wheels are used on the croupier's end while software to make wagers and bets are used on the player's end. The live chat options brings a social element to the game. It's the most realistic casino experience outside of a land-based casino.

You will find lots of table games at live casinos, namely blackjack, roulette, baccarat, Caribbean Stud, three card poker, Hold'em, and more. Live dealer games are always being added. If you're looking for an online way to enjoy your favorite table games, live casinos are the place to play.

Online blackjack and roulette are the most popular live dealer games for a variety of reasons, and chief amongst these is their simplicity. Both are really easy to learn and even a beginner can pick up the key elements in no time. Another reason is the small house edge, which means players can get a lot of play for their money. You can spend a great deal of time enjoying interactions with a real-life dealer, for a minimal outlay.

Yes, a growing number of sites offer free demos of live casino games. These are not available everywhere, but you can generally find casinos that have the option. Even on sites without real dealer demos, you can play automated versions of the same casino games for free, as a way to try before you buy.

No, you'll be glad to know live games are not rigged. The games are tested by independent bodies to ensure everything is fair and above board, as is the case with all other online casino games at reputable sites. Any good online casino will display their accreditation on-site, so you can see it has willingly subjected itself to independent testing under the terms of its online gaming licence.

Yes, a growing number of sites have brought live dealer casino games to their mobile and tablet versions. Not every live dealer game you see on a casino site may be compatible with the device, but this is quickly changing thanks to player demand. Currently live blackjack, roulette, and 3 card poker are the most popular mobile variations. Keep in mind that screen size can be more important to the live dealer experience than on regular casino games, if you can't see the dealer then you won't get the full experience.
