Making deposits with BTC is virtually identical to the traditional options. The player begins by opening the casinos banking page. Bitcoin is then selected from the list of acceptable deposit methods. The next step is entering the number of Bitcoins for deposit. Once the player enters their BTC-wallet number, the payment can be confirmed. The Bitcoins are then transferred immediately to the player's casino account.

Blockchain-based, fair play games are published and stored through the use of smart contracts. This means every player has public access to every transaction performed by the casino because all transactions become a part of the blockchain. Part of the reason Bitcoin Canada was established is to provide a solution for one of the greatest challenges of all online casino players, the lack of transparency.

Bitcoin canada online casino

The capabilities of blockchain-based fair play games include transparency for not only the players, but all of the participants as well. This includes game providers and affiliates. Players gain the ability to check the amounts of their wins, losses and bets in a convenient and simple manner. Players are also able to calculate their payout percentage which offers an excellent edge.

To make certain FairPlay has the trust of the players, TruePlay software is used at all online Canadian Bitcoin casinos. Blockchain technology is leveraged to eliminate the possibility of the game results being altered in addition to preventing hacking. Hashing is used by the software to securely store the data. This ensures the system is not manipulated by anyone for any reason.

Casino canada bitcoin online

Players are able to track the data on the blockchain or the casino website because recent wins, losses, bets, withdrawals and deposits are all displayed. Due to the technology of the blockchain the players receive the advantages of transparent, fast, secure and less expensive transactions. For all of these reasons, Canadian Bitcoin casinos have become very popular.

If you want to win a fortune at a Bitcoin casino Canada, first you have to choose the best paying and the most reliable among Bitcoin casinos. Luckily, CasinosHunter has already collected a list of the recommended sites for you. Check them out below, and pick the ones that promise the biggest wins!

The majority of online Bitcoin casinos try to provide exclusive online casino bonuses to those gamblers who make deposits and bets with digital currency. So, look for additional promotions; if there are no special promotions that can be claimed by depositing with crypto, this does not mean that the site is poor in service. However, some players may feel disappointed not being offered extra gifts. Look for both Welcome promotions, and promotions for already depositing players. Watch out for Terms and Conditions, and avoid wagering requirements higher than x45 for the Bitcoin casino bonuses.

It makes most sense to make real money bets with BTC if there are exclusive games that are compatible for digital currencies. These games' software allows to regulate the size of the bet in a convenient manner, as its main advantage. If you are wondering what providers make BTC-compatible games, these include Microgaming, NetEnt, BetSoft, Playtech, BigTimeGaming, and Evolution Gaming. While the majority makes BTC-friendly slots, which is already good enough, Evolution Gaming allows betting with crypto on Live Dealer Games, which is a real treat. So check what providers and what Bitcoin casino games are offered to you in the casino lobby.

Making deposits and requesting cashout in digital currencies is generally an advantage. Digital currencies have their own payment processing channels, and the transactions are fast, transparent, and secure at the same time. However, there is one important aspect to pay attention to - make sure you are allowed not only to deposit and make bets in BTC, but also to withdraw in crypto. If withdrawal in crypto is not available, it means the smart-ass casino accumulates BTC for itself, while paying out winnings in fiat currency, and the gambler still has to face the currency exchange expenses. So, look for a provably fair Bitcoin casino.

Being a blockchain technology that originated from the initial Bitcoin cryptocurrency, Bitcoin Cash has a few important differences. First and foremost, it can be considered a more advanced technology, which is also seen from its advantages when compared to BTC.

In terms of growth and scalability, the use Bitcoin Cash can become even more promising, so gambling Bitcoin Cash may turn out really profitable

Online casino canada bitcoin

One of the most interesting and intriguing things about Bitcoin casinos is the ability to be offered some exclusive games, or, if not, at least a wider range of games that you can usually find in regular online casinos. Moreover, the bets are often more attractive, even if the games are regular. Most often, you will find the following games.

Slots are the most popular and widespread games when we are talking about online casinos, because many software developers make at least 1-2 new slot games every month. However, you are very likely to find some exclusive slot games made specifically for bets in BTC. Some additional bonuses may apply in these slots if you bet in BTC, extra symbols may be unleashed, and so on. Therefore, even regular slots can become attractive in a new way.

Roulette is one of the most popular and loved table games and games of chance, equally comprehensive and promising for both newbies and experienced bettors. You will be able to master it in a matter of minutes, while betting in BTC will give you bigger wins in general than betting in fiat currencies.

Blackjack is one of the most popular card games where betting with BTC is allowed by most casino sites. This is why, if you are skilled in Blackjack, you definitely want to play with digital currencies, because your winnings will be more lucrative. You may want to try automated Blackjack to begin with, and master the rules, and then move on to Live Blackjack games.

Bitcoin casino online canada

Baccarat is a very old card game, having been around for a couple of centuries, before it became popular at online parlours and casinos that accept Bitcoin so that bets in crypto became possible on it. Baccarat is comparatively easy to learn, and there are only a few variations of it, so it is a good game for beginners.

Live Dealer Games where crypto is accepted for bets are still rare, but these are fun, and can be very profitable at casinos that accept Bitcoin. Most BTC Live games are table games, like Roulettes, Blackjacks, Pokers, and more. The main difference is the game being hosted by the Live Dealer, who explains the rules and communicates with players.

Online bitcoin casino canada

Games with dice are less popular in our days for some reason, mostly because there are many rules that apply to the majority of dice games. Craps is one of the most popular games, and it is really fun. If you know the rules of Craps, and have experience with it, betting with BTC is really promising.

If you are still wondering whether you should risk your Bitcoin gambling, and if you really love gambling at online casinos, should you really use BTC for betting at a casino with Bitcoin, well, check out the following advantages provided. BTC, as the majority of other cryptocurrencies, has its own peculiarities making it really advantageous for betting.

Online bitcoin canada casino

When you send money in BTC, you remain anonymous. The system sees the source of the transaction and its destination, however, the parties remain anonymous. This way, if the Bitcoin casino turns out fraudulent, it can try to steal the money you have just deposited, or ordered for cashout. But the casino cannot reach out to your e-wallet / bank account to hack it and take all your money.

Depositing and withdrawing in BTC is really advantageous. Firstly, Bitcoin transactions are transparent, meaning your money cannot get “lost” in transactions, or the sum can be “accidentally” decreased by any of the parties due to “commissions”. You will see the whole process from start to end, and if any commissions or fees are applied, you will see them reflected transparently, as well.

Bitcoin online canada casino

Secondly, the transactions are irreversible, meaning the Bitcoin casino cannot send you the winnings and then pretend they revealed any type of rules violation, and “reverse” the cashout request. If they want to reverse what has been sent, they will have to create a new request, and ask the payee to send the money back. And eventually, deposits and withdrawals in digital currencies are almost instant, taking maximum around 3 days if the Bitcoin casino double-checks the legitimacy of the request.

Since Bitcoin payments are not tied to official banks of different countries, and usual bank limitations do not apply, it usually means that the Bitcoin casinos allow higher limits for deposits and withdrawals when you pay in BTC. Therefore, high rollers who want to deposit and bet bigger sums are able to do so, including receiving higher bonuses, and cashing out bigger sums per transaction. Bitcoin casinos are way more cautious with fiat currencies if compared to BTC, because they will have to deal with banks and their strict policies if something goes wrong. But if you use Bitcoin, the possibility of going wrong is way lower, as a result, the limits are way higher.

Casino canada online bitcoin

One of the markers of a reliable and respectable online casino that accepts Bitcoin is the abundance of the payment methods for deposits and withdrawals, and the faster and more transparent these payment methods are, the easier it is to double-check the Canadian Bitcoin casino for fairness. To be a provably fair casino, the Canadian Bitcoin casinos usually request a check from independent third parties which test through all the processes, and confirm (or do not confirm) that the best Bitcoin casino Canada seems to be fair. Testing the payments and seeing they are fast, fair, and adequate, also makes the site provably fair.

Bitcoin casinos are still complicated to find, because offering deposits and withdrawals with BTC, let alone exclusive BTC games, is a privilege not each and every Bitcoin casino in Canada can now afford. This is why many web parlours prefer to stick to fiat currencies and avoid the pains of providing BTC options for their customers.

Casino online bitcoin canada

However, while we never deny the beauties and benefits of regular web casinos, those Bitcoin casinos in Canada can open some totally new horizons of Bitcoin gambling for their loyal customers.

In order to enable you to make an informed choice about what casino to prefer, we have compared the features of those two casino types.

Casino online bitcoin canada

Canadian government fully allows and regulates land based gambling, and does not prohibit online casino gambling for residents and guests in the country, meaning it is legal in Canada. The only two real limitations for online casinos are:

However, the second limitation is not really strict, and Canadian players are generally free to make bets at any web site that accepts them as real money customers.

Casino online canada bitcoin

However, there is a catch. If the site is not licensed by the government, it means that in case of any fraud or low quality service, the Canadian customer is not protected by the existing legislation, as the government has no power over this site. As a result, players from Canada should explore Bitcoin casinos in Canada and check their reliability and trustworthiness on their own. Therefore, security questions rise.

Luckily, Bitcoin casinos for Canadians offer one of the safest Bitcoin gambling options, because transactions in BTC are safe, secure, transparent, anonymous, and fast. This way, both the players’ sensitive information and money are protected better than at fiat currency casinos.

In order to make deposits and bets in BTC, you need not only an online casino accepting crypto, but a Bitcoin wallet. If you already have, or are planning to buy more Bitcoin, it makes sense to purchase a cold storage, also called cold Bitcoin wallet. Cold BTC wallet is a physical storage disk where the majority of your crypto is kept. Online wallet is where you keep your BTC for betting, and where your cashout goes in the first place.

Online wallets are safe, but not safe enough to keep big sums there. So, you transfer coins from cold storage to an online wallet, and deposit. When you withdraw, the funds go to the online wallet, and then you transfer the coins to the cold storage. This is the safest method of saving the crypto coins.

At the time of writing, the most convenient and secure wallets for Canadians include: Trezor, Ledger Nano S, KeepKey, Mycelium, Exodus, Electrum, Jaxx, Copay.

If you need to exchange crypto to fiat currency or back, use exchange services. Better use independent third party services instead of currency exchange service offered by an online casino. Some of the most popular services are Coinberry, Crypto.com, Bitbuy, Binance, Coinmama, Quebex, Kraken, Bitfinex, Ndax.

Canada casino online bitcoin

Canadians have no problem gambling online at foreign casino sites and betting with fiat currencies. Predictably enough, they are also free to make deposits and bets with any cryptocurrency online casinos, including Bitcoin.

The general main law of online gambling for Canadian punters is to play on offshore Bitcoin casinos in Canada. The government does not regulate that much; some Canadian Bitcoin casinos purchase the gambling license by Kahnawake Gaming Commission, some do not and Canadians still gamble there. So, the situation with Bitcoin and other digital coins is generally the same.

Canada casino online bitcoin

However, some regulations and laws can be expected in the near future. The Canadian government does not mind real bets by local residents at whatever casino that accept Bitcoin, but the funds movement can at least be tracked via payment systems and banks in case the money gets stolen. The other case is with cryptocurrencies, which offer transparent, but fully anonymous Bitcoin transactions. While this is an advantage in terms of safety, full absence of regulation creates legal risks.

AuthorMike HunterCasino sites that allow deposits, bets, and withdrawals in Bitcoins are actually among the most profitable casinos because winnings in BTC can be massive. But complicated rules usually apply so the players should pay attention.

Online casino bitcoin canada

CasinosHunter is aware of how complicated this can be, so we believe this guide provided is useful and helpful for all players that want to start making bets in crypto to win more.

There are many nuances and hidden pitfalls in this sub-niche, depending not only on the particular casino site or e-wallet, but also on the jurisdiction of the player, etc. Reading reviews, news on the legislation, and new technologies is a must for everyone who wants to be successful in crypto gambling.

Casino online bitcoin canada

To make sure your coins are safe, you have to check the security page of the casino, and see if they store the coins in cold storages to guarantee security of the customers' funds. Most online parlours do so, but it is always better to double-check.

If you have an impressive amount of BTC on your casino balance, you may want to watch out for the Bitcoin currency rate. If the trends of volatility are not advantageous for you, it makes sense to cash out most of your funds to your Bitcoin wallet.

Online bitcoin casino canada

See if the casino has a license by a reliable online gambling authority like Malta, UK, or Kahnawake Gambling Commission. If yes, then the casino is most likely legit.

It is not easy to find a Bitcoin online casino that has Live Dealer games, but if the software provider is Evolution Gaming, then you have a chance of making bets in digital coins and play against a live dealer casino.

You can play casino games if you access in Demo mode. It is often available for unregistered visitors of the gambling site, and for the registered customers for sure. However, please keep in mind that you will not win any money when playing in Demo mode. This mode exists to help you test out the games, and to practice before making real money bets.

If a particular Bitcoin gambling site offers a No Deposit promotion, and according to the Terms and Conditions you are eligible for claiming it upon registration, then you have a chance of making free bets and winning real funds in BTC.

This depends on the payment system utilized by each particular casino to process the transactions, plus this depends on the rules of the site. Some do take a small fee for processing.

For sure you can! BTC gambling sites are very advanced, and as a result, they are fully mobile compatible, or even have their official mobile apps available. So gambling at mobile online casinos is even more convenient.

Please avoid accessing online casino sites if you are younger than legal age in your country, or / and if online gambling is prohibited by law in your country of residence.
