Without further ado, we'll present the highest payout online slot machines you can find in the top online casinos in 2022.

Return To Player is therefore basically the polar opposite of House Edge. The house edge is usually used when referring to live table games and is the mathematical advantage the casino holds over the player.

If a slot has an RTP of 98.7% the bank (the casino) still has a 1.3% edge over us. This might not seem like much but it means that you will lose on average 1.30 dollar for every 100 dollar you bet.

SO... RTP really does matter! If you aim to increase your long-term winning chances at slots then opt for high rtp slots. There are a wide range of the best rtp slots to choose from at various online casinos but we advise you to choose above 95% rtp slots as this is considered to be a standard percentage.

Mega Joker is an old school type of slot without too many of the flashy features we have come to expect from video slots, however with such a huge RTP of 99% it has to be included in this roundup. There's not much you can do by way of strategy on this slot with only 2 stake sizes in the main base game, and this can be a really really nasty slot emptying your bank balance pretty quickly. But equally it has to go the other way and you can run into very nice winning streaks.

The base game may not be particularly exciting with wild reels and re-spins, but wait until you get to the free spins bonus round, where the full potential of this slot is to be found.

We are talking, of course, about online casino providers, not land-based casinos, on which the payout percentage is significantly less. In some occasions, real money casinos besides promoting their bonus features, are also promoting an above-average high RTP percentage.

Therefore we would consider a slot with a RTP over 96.50% to be a high RTP slot. Slots over 97.00% is unusual and this would be a very high RTP slot.

In the gaming scene there are some companies that regularly dedicate themselves to a particular slot or several slots and put them through various tests. These include, for example, the companies eCogra, iTech Labs and GLI. They are independent auditors that check slot machines for fair play and a correct RTP ratio.

The maximum RTP comes into play when you activate the High Roller mode, so make sure not to miss it. In the base game, the RTP goes up to 96%, which is still decent for a 10-paylines slot with medium volatility, but the big bet mode and gamble features are where this slot truly shines. The tongue-in-cheek vampire design and funny horror elements make Ooh Aah Dracula a truly unique slot.

You can enjoy mountains win of over 9,000 x in this 4,096 paylines on this 4 lines – 6 reels slot. In keeping with the theme, the Mount Everest symbol is the wild symbol in the game, which can replace all other regular symbols except the scatter symbol. If you sit next to lady Luck, you can earn up to 880 9K Yeti free spins feature in this slot.

Another term that is often used in the context of Slot payback is hit frequency. Hit frequency has a very similar meaning to Slot variance since it shows how often you can expect a win in a Slot machine.

Playtech casinos all list the same RTP for a particular slot, even if they are not even part of the same casino chain. And Playtech makes these RTPs very easy to find and compare. Simply click on “help” within any Playtech slot and you will have a pop-up window where you can find details about all the slots on offer at that casino. (For NetEnt slots, another major player in the online casino game, you click on the question mark to find the relevant information. On netent.com you can even practice pretty much all of their slots portfolio).

We believe that if you take a higher risk playing more volatile Slots there should also be the possibility of extreme wins. What’s the point of playing more risky Slots otherwise?

Using a simple example, if you were to make a thousand one euro bets on a slot machine on with a theoretical Slot RTP of 96.01%, all other things being equal you would expect to get a return of €960.10 in wins from your staked €1,000.

This could of course work for a while if you’re really lucky but believe us when we say it. It WON’T last forever. We firmly believe that playing Slots should be for pure entertainment and extra excitement in life.

Ragnarok is a Genesis Gaming slot you will find under the hood of Microgaming casinos. It has an exceptional 98% RTP so of course it is worth checking out. We are not big fans personally as it feels a bit bland and clunky and the autoplay feature only goes up to 25 spins a time. But that’s down to personal taste so don’t be put off by that, have a little play yourselves in demo mode and see what you think.

If a Slot machine has Low Variance the probability is higher that it will pay out money more evenly. In other words it will give smaller wins but more frequently and even spread out over time.

Play ‘n Go controversy: One more reason to only play at a trusted casino: it has come to light that a number of casinos (mainly shoddy Curacao “licensed” casinos) are offering Book of Dead with a lower RTP than the max offered by the provider. Play ‘n Go are now offering different RTP’s for the casinos to pick out. Some casinos are offering the top RTP in the UK but lower RTP for the rest of the world and a lot of casinos are starting to hide the RTP where they can so we can assume they are offering the lowest RTP available to them.

As most other things in life there isn’t a right or wrong answer to what Slots that is best to play. It all depends on your motive with playing. An important reminder seems suitable in this context.

For us, the main argument is still the payout ratio of 98% and that’s why we advise you to try Jokerizer yourself.

The average payout on slot machine varies among slots but you are going to find a higher return-to-player percentage in the recommended online casinos as compared to the traditional slot machines. Blood Suckers slot and 1429 Uncharted Seas slot have a very high RTP of over 98%.

The vampire genre has never been more popular, and it is the inspiration for this spooky NetEnt slot. You’ll see various Blood Suckers adorning the reels, along with the weapons to fight them off. It is not merely the impressive 98% RTP that draws players to this slot, but also the rich selection of special features. There are wild substitutions, scatter pays, free spins with triple payouts and a vampire slaying bonus game. Trigger the bonus and you will find yourself in an ancient burial chamber, filled with coffins. Open the coffins to slay vampires, earning coin wins with each creature you defeat.

With Kings of Chicago, NetEnt has a small unique selling point in the slot segment. Because this slot combines classic slot action with video poker elements.

Hot on the heels of Megaways is All British Casino, which offers an average RTP across its games of 95.98%. There is also a good welcome bonus, with new players given a 100% matching bonus up to £100.

Now, it depends on your priority, preference and whether you are a risk taker or not. If your priority is to win massive payouts and you are willing to spend on high variance Slots where the number of Spins are quite less then go for it. On the other hand if you don't want to take risk and content with small wins then go for low variance Slots.

Slots are a game of pure chance, so there's no way to tell when a slot machine is about to hit. They sometimes tend to run hot or cold, just like all random events do. The variance implemented in all slots can result in a string of wins or losses. That's where the hit frequency and variance come into play along with the slot RTP.

Unfortunately, there are no slots that will guarantee that you will always win. The RTP would have to be higher than 100% and that would mean the online casino would be bankrupt within a few days. The good news however, is that there is a number of online slots that has a RTP that is very close to 100%.

In some casinos you can see both the payback (RTP) and how Slot pay out money (variance/volatility) but definitely not in all casinos.

After comparing pay out percentages of thousands of different slots, we have compiled this list of 28 of the highest paying slots that you can play in an online casino. This list is not the be all and end all and an exact top 28 but it is pretty close!

It's very difficult to answer whether to opt for Slots with your preferred theme or to pay importance to the rtp percentage. Well it depends on your reasons for gambling. Whether you are gambling just to make money or you are in for just sheer enjoyment. There are a lot of gamblers who just gamble in order to get away from the mundane life and to enjoy a fun time spinning the reels on their favorite themed slots.

Make sure you check the RTP at the casino of your choice before you play. If it is hidden (ie if it is not showing but other casinos do show it) then do not play this slot here. If the rtp value is significantly lower at one casino then do not play it here. We have been removing a good number of casino listings from our site where we have found them to be changing their RTP's downwards.

Please remember that if you take an online casino bonus, terms and conditions apply.

Every player's relationship with online casino slots is defined by many factors. Do you like what you see or do those shiny graphics tire your eyes? Is the game running smoothly both on your desktop screen and on your mobile device? Are you enjoying the sound of the background and the effects, or are they boring? Do you like winning often, or do you prefer winning big? Don't be shy, admit it. On the bottom line, it's all about winning and many gamblers seek the highest RTP slots.

The problem many rookies make is after hitting a big win on one slot, they avoid this slot but use their winnings to play bigger stakes on other slots within the same online casino. Or by using the winnings from one slot to try and chase previous losses on another slot. For all intents and purposes, all individual slots within an online casino can be viewed as one giant slot, just with various different interfaces. Online slots and casinos should never be compared to land based slots and casinos.

In this section of Yes No Casino we are going to be incorporating our critically acclaimed Return To Player Database as well as our online slots reviews into single handy overview pages. We'll also giving a good explanation about the various online slots companies and detailing their history, etc. We will also be removing the cluttered casinos from these pages and instead offering only much smaller and easier to manage tables of the best casinos featuring each online slots software. If you want a full list of every single casino featuring particular online slots then we will be building and offering you a comprehensive "tags" database featuring all casinos using a particular payment method, all casinos available to certain countries and territories and of course as mentioned, all casinos listed by the slots software they feature.

In most good casinos cases, the slot RTP will be displayed clearly in the game instructions, or how can ask customer support to provide this information. However, for slots that don't list the RTP, be very cautious; you can start placing $1 bets up to $100 and see what you get in return to calculate the slot RTP, but remember the figures are normally based on millions of spins to avoid errors, so if you are playing a very volatile machine your actual results way vary massively.

There might be slots with higher RTP not included in this list but we only enlist slots with the highest quality when it comes to entertainment value, graphics, sounds and of course security. We also haven't included slots that been removed by the slot provider or isn't working anymore (other sites unfortunately still promote none active slots)

Usually licensed real money casinos include a separate section in which all games RTP percentage is published, and those numbers are verified by independent auditors.
