Paysafe has been at the forefront of the European prepaid card industry since the year 2000, and its popularity means there are many Paysafecard casinos in our database. Part of the reason for its success is its ease-of-use, with players able to simply use a voucher to directly deposit funds into an online casino account.

In that time, it has been subject to a pair of acquisitions. First, Skrill, which can also be used in Skrill casinos, took them over in 2013, and then UK-based Optimal Payments Group absorbed the Skrill empire two years later. Optimal Payments liked the name of the card so much that they later rebranded the company to Paysafe Group, as it's known today.

The company, including Paysafecard, is regulated by the UK Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and boasts a fruitful partnership with the world-famous Mastercard. In March 2020, the companies announced an expanded relationship, integrating Apple Pay and Google Pay into the Paysafe payment system.

Although the first two expenses are pretty standard, the redemption fee seems expensive, especially when refunds are a fairly common occurrence and it's hard to imagine them costing the company that much to process them.

It's worth pointing out, however, that these fees are the exception rather than the rule: they only apply in certain cases and most Paysafecard customers won't experience them.

What casinos paysafe online take

As you can see from this list, there are a large number of online casinos that accept Paysafe, so it's good to know how to make a deposit.

When you find a suitable Paysafe casino (more on that later), you need to sign up or log in, depending on if you have an account. From there, you just enter your Paysafecard details and make a deposit. The minimum amount can vary depending on the casino: some of them require as little as $10 to get started and these $10 Paysafe casinos are quite common, which is handy as you can buy a Paysafecard voucher for that amount.

You can now also use Paysafe services to withdraw money from online casinos, although it will need more than the voucher you used to deposit the money in the first place - more specifically, your My Paysafecard account details.

Simply log in to your account page at the casino and select Paysafecard as the withdrawal method: you'll then have to enter the amount you want to take out and your email address. The funds should then be instantly credited to your My Paysafecard account balance and you can use them to make another purchase.
