ROBLOX is built upon a custom system that includes its own scripting language and core programming languages. While it may not be true to say that all games on ROBLOX are made with ROBLOX's scripting language, this is true of the vast majority of games on the site. The scripting language is easy to learn, but more advanced scripting calls can be difficult to implement for users who do not know the syntax or do not have the time. This has led to many third-party solutions (modification of gameplay, ROBLOX engine modifications and others) being made by experienced users so that less experienced users can get a head start in the game development process.

Roblox claims that she was fired because they found out she was using her workplace computer to dig up personal information about her co-workers and this affected her job performance. However, she claims that the only reason they are saying this is because they found out about her blog post and didn't want the bad publicity. Roblox also provided an email that Chris sent to HR in May of 2017 regarding erratic hours. She says that it was just a single complaint and wasn't fired for it.

ROBLOX has created a number of recurring events over the years. On October 23, 2012 Robotcrab had announced a new way for Roblox users to make money by selling virtual items in the Roblox catalog: the "Builders Club". Players use Roblox's in-game currency, called ROBUX, to purchase items which they can sell to other players.

A group of Roblox players petitioned against the aforementioned avatar update for over two years before it was actually implemented. The change, in which the user could add or remove tattoos to their avatar, would allow them to earn more money as these tattoos could be sold to other players. Since some controversial tattoos were associated with this feature, some users were vehemently against the implementation of this change.

ROBLOX has been criticized for being a scam. This is because many users have claimed that they are scammed by ROBLOX. One of these scams was when a user named "Brianna" was falsely accused of selling copied items, which caused the price of an item to go from $10-$20 to $50-$100 overnight.[50]
