In early October 2008, ROBLOX launched a blog that discusses game design techniques, new features and events in detail. This blog is updated regularly with posts from the ROBLOX development team as well as occasional guest posts from other entities such as users and other game developers.[41] In late November 2010, ROBLOX launched a forum with Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) regarding common problems that users face when using ROBLOX Studio.[42]

People on ROBLOX are sometimes known to come up with their own language called "Robloxian", which is basically like a mix between English and gibberish. It is not really considered its own language because it's too simple and doesn't have any official dialects or countries.

On November 2nd, 2018, ROBLOX announced that the company is looking into implementing state-of-the-art anti-cheat technology. This was made to reduce the chances of "boters" putting random objects in games that don't belong there or making designs that look like they can be through a video editor. The company also stated that if there are any issues with their anti-cheat software, they will let everyone know as soon as possible.[24]

ROBLOX's Twitch page was created on April 4th, 2016. So far, ROBLOX has streamed various games and have gained a moderate amount of followers: on April 26th, 2016 (one month after the page was created), ROBLOX had 6,200 followers.[13] On October 24th, 2017 (exactly one year later), they gained 36,000 followers.[14] Their most viewed stream is "High School Life," which so far has gotten over 2 million views.[15] The same video even got 6.7k upvotes.[16]

Roblox is a video game platform created by American programmer David Baszucki in 2006 as a social game for children ages 8 to 13. The game is free to play, but contains some limitations like the amount of characters and objects that can be placed in a single game.
