Robux. Robux is the currency of roblox that can be purchased with real money, although there are also other ways to receive them within the system of roblox itself. The way they work is very simple - you can use Robux to purchase in-game items, such as clothes for your character or even full-on animations such as dances and others. This adds a form of virtual economy to the game which adds depth and meaning into it - although the impact of the impact that this has on the game can be debated heavily depending on who you talk to. This means that, while there is a sense of the possibility of winning content within the game - there is no chance of getting content without paying for it.

On June 26th, 2018, ROBLOX CEO John Hanke made an announcement on Twitter that the company would be removing the ability to create avatars for users within games and requiring new avatars to be created instead. Once this update was implemented however, users were able to create new models based on existing ones and preserve them as a template which they could then upload into games alongside their original avatar. This update was to lower fraud within the site with copyright infringement and promoting copyright infringement by bypassing game mechanics by allowing users to create avatars of other users' games.[21]

It also has forums for discussion of specific games and topics. The game-specific forums are for posts about the game, and the player-to-player forums are for general discussion.

In 2011, ROBLOX explored new territory by releasing a single player/non-multiplayer title called 'Toy Defense'. Other notable games released around this time were "Dragon Knights", "Ancient Amulet", and the new version of "Capture the Flag" titled 'Capture the Flag 2'. On February 24, 2012 ROBLOX released another downloadable game titled "Rage Parking Simulator 2012". The success of Rage Parking Simulator 2012 (Rage for short) led to the creation of more downloadable games including, but not limited to: "Hoverboard Racing", "Build to Survive", and "Mech Warfare". On March 15, 2015 ROBLOX ported Rage to mobile devices on Google Play.
